Re: Infringement and Unauthorized Use of MARTA Trademarks and Copyrights

Dear MARTA Guide:

We represent Metropolitan Atlanta Rapid Transit Authority, also known as MARTA. Our client has learned you are infringing and making unauthorized uses of MARTA's trademarks and copyrights through the operation of your business under the name "MARTA Guide", including your website at www.martaguide.com and your social media pages (collectively, "MARTA Guide"). Our client has a duty to protect its intellectual property from misuse and prevent likely confusion, including confusion over whether MARTA endorses, or is in any way affiliated with your business, website, or social media pages. As detailed below, we demand MARTA Guide immediately stop using the MARTA name, trademarks and copyrighted works, immediately take down your website and social media pages, and agree not to use any of MARTA's intellectual property without our client's express written permission.

MARTA and Its Relevant Trademarks and Copyrights

MARTA is a public body created by the Metropolitan Rapid Transit Authority Act, which has overseen and operated the multi modal public transit system for the Greater Metropolitan Atlanta area for over 50 years. This includes the MARTA rapid rail line and bus systems, which have numerous routes, stops, and stations throughout the greater Atlanta area. MARTA is also responsible for driving economic development in the communities in and around Atlanta to build walkable, livable communities that have everything passengers might need within walking distance from a MARTA station or stop. MARTA has developed and used a number of trademarks and copyrighted works in connection with its operations over the last five decades.

MARTA has used the word and stylized versions of MARTA, and its distinct orange, yellow and blue banner logo, since at least 1973, and owns all common law and federally registered rights in these marks (the "MARTA Marks"). This includes United States Trademark Registrations 5,011,587 and 5,011,589 for the following versions of the MARTA Marks:

(Tab A.) These marks are registered for "transportation of passengers by paratransit vehicle, bus, and rail." (Id.) MARTA has also used the word and stylized versions of BREEZE since at least 2005, and owns all common law and federally registered rights in these marks (the "Breeze Marks"). This includes United States Trademark Registrations 3,134,045 and 3,134,044 for stored valued cards for use with transportation and retail services. (Tab B.) The MARTA Marks and the Breeze Marks are collectively referred to as the “MARTA Trademarks.” The registrations for the MARTA Trademarks are incontestable and give MARTA exclusive nationwide rights in the marks. See 15 U.S.C. §§ 1057(b), 1065, and 1115(a)-(b).

MARTA also owns the copyrights in the various original works of authorship it has created over the years. This includes the copyrights in the content of MARTA’s official website, published at www.itsmarta.com. The MARTA website provides a wide array of information to the public and to passengers who use MARTA’s public transportation services. This includes detailed information about MARTA’s rail line system, train stations and schedules, bus routes and schedules, fares, the Breeze® cards and tickets, reference guides and rider guides, and parking, as well as real-time information about current train arrival times by station, and service alerts for the MARTA buses, trains, and streetcar. The MARTA website also provides information about restaurants, entertainment and recreational venues, historical sites, tourist attractions, and other activities, events, and venues located near MARTA train stations and bus stops. In addition, the MARTA website provides information about and links to download the official MARTA mobile apps, including MARTA On the Go and MARTA See & Say. The website also provides links to MARTA’s online platform for passengers to manage their Breeze® cards, which are used to pay fares in the MARTA system (accessible online at www.breezecard.com).

The MARTA website also links to MARTA’s YouTube channel (www.youtube.com/@MARTAtransit) which publishes a number of MARTA’s copyrighted videos, including: 1) A Rookie’s Guide to Riding the Marta Train; 2) Rookie’s Guide for How to Ride the MARTA Bus; and 3) MARTA’s See & Say App. (Tab C). MARTA also owns the copyrights in the different versions of the MARTA system maps, which are available in paper copies at MARTA stations and electronic copies on MARTA’s website. This includes the current rail line map, published online at <https://itsmarta.com/train-stations-and-schedules.aspx>.

As the owner of the copyrights in these works, MARTA owns a number of exclusive rights in the works, including the exclusive rights to publish, distribute, and copy them, and to make derivatives from them. No one may copy, publish, or otherwise use these copyrighted works without MARTA’s permission.

MARTA Guide’s Infringing Activities

Your MARTA Guide business involves the unauthorized and infringing use of MARTA’s trademarks and copyrights to provide the same type of information MARTA provides through its official sources. (Compare www.itsmarta.com with Tabs D-E.) In doing so, you are impersonating MARTA or otherwise creating confusion to drive online traffic to your website and social media to profit from that confusion.

For example, your www.martaguide.com website makes prominent use of the MARTA Marks as part of the header for nearly every webpage:

MARTA Guide

(Tab D at 2, 7, 10, 14, 31, 38, 45, 49, 52, 56, 60, 63.) You make similar use of the MARTA Marks on your Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and Pinterest pages, all of which use the name “MARTA Guide” and include images of the MARTA rail line map and other MARTA materials. (Tab E.) You also use the MARTA orange, yellow, and blue banner logo to identify neighborhoods, apartments, hotels, attractions, and stores near MARTA rail line stations. (Tab D at 10-47.) You also actively link to pages on MARTA’s official website, including MARTA’s webpages for the MARTA On the Go app, reduced fare program, group discounts, mobility services, University Pass Program, Students Program, Partnership Program, and MARTA’s Breeze Card website, among others. (Tab F; see also Tab D at 48-54.)

You are also using several of MARTA’s copyrighted works without permission. For example, your website embeds and publishes copies of at least MARTA’s videos titled: 1) A Rookie’s Guide to Riding the Marta Train; 2) Rookie’s Guide for How to Ride the MARTA Bus; and 3) MARTA’s See & Say App. (Tab D at 56, 60, 63.)¹ You also have copied and are publishing a version of MARTA’s rail line map. (Id. at 7.)²

Furthermore, you are profiting from your unauthorized use of MARTA’s intellectual property. Your website is full of paid placement advertising, you do not disclose your true identity anywhere on your website or social media pages, and your social media pages direct users to your website. (See Tabs D & E.) Accordingly, you are unlawfully trading on MARTA’s reputation, goodwill, and its intellectual property and rights for your own financial gain.

¹ On your website at <https://martaguide.com/how-to-ride-marta-trains/>, <https://martaguide.com/how-to-ride-marta-buses/>, and <https://martaguide.com/3-apps-that-will-improve-your-marta-commute/>.

In sum, your unauthorized use of the MARTA Trademarks and copyrights on your MARTA Guide website and social media pages is likely to cause confusion with MARTA and the MARTA Trademarks. Your MARTA Guide website and social media pages are also likely to cause confusion as to whether these are authentic or authorized websites and social media pages of MARTA, whether MARTA has authorized your use of its intellectual property, whether MARTA has endorsed your website and social media pages, and/or whether MARTA is affiliated with your website and social media pages or sponsors you, your website or social media pages, or their content. Hence, your conduct constitutes trademark infringement, false association, affiliation, sponsorship or endorsement, and unfair competition in violation of the federal trademark laws. E.g., 15 U.S.C. §§ 1114, 1116 & 1125. Your conduct also constitutes copyright infringement in violation of the federal copyright laws. E.g., 17 U.S.C. § 501(a). Accordingly, MARTA is entitled to a number of remedies, including: 1) injunctive relief prohibiting you from using the MARTA Trademarks or copyrighted works, and requiring the takedown of your website and social media pages; 2) destruction of all infringing materials, including your website and social media pages; 3) monetary damages; 4) disgorgement of your profits from the MARTA Guide website and social media pages, and from any other infringing activities; 5) corrective advertising; and 6) treble damages, attorney's fees and costs for intentional and willful infringement of the MARTA Trademarks.³ Your registration and use of the <martaguide.com> domain name may also constitute cybersquatting, which would entitle MARTA to an award of statutory damages up to $100,000.00, in addition to the cancellation of the domain name registration or its transfer to MARTA. See 15 U.S.C. §§ 1125(d)(1) & 1117(d).

Demand to Cease Infringing MARTA's Rights

MARTA would like to resolve this issue with you amicably and without the need for litigation or other unnecessary trouble and expense. To that end, MARTA is willing to forego seeking many of the available remedies such as disgorgement of profits and its attorney's fees, if you take the following steps to end your unauthorized activities:

³ See e.g., 15 U.S.C. §§ 1116(a) (injunctive relief, including corrective advertising), § 1117(a) (monetary remedies include recovery of defendant's profits, actual damages, treble damages, and attorneys' fees and litigation costs), and § 1118 (authorizing destruction of the infringing labels, packaging, and products and of the false advertisements); 17 U.S.C. §§ 502(a) (injunctive relief), § 503 (impounding and destruction of infringing materials), § 504 (actual damages and recovery of defendant's profits). See also Merck Eprova AG v. Gnosis S.P.A., 760 F.3d 247, 251, 254-55, 261-65 (2d Cir. 2014) (affirming false advertising judgment of $527,000 in damages as trebling of defendant's profits, over $2 million in attorneys' fees, and corrective advertising); Aronowitz v. Health-Chem Corp., 513 F.3d 1229, 1241 (11th Cir. 2008) ("[D]amages for trademark infringement may include (1) the defendant's profits, (2) any damages sustained by the plaintiff, and (3) the cost of the action. ... 'damages sustained by the plaintiff' include 'all elements of injury to the business of the trademark owner proximately resulting from the infringer's wrongful acts' such as the costs of corrective advertising or injury to business reputation or goodwill"); Campbell v. Bennett, 47 F.4th 1362, 1365 (11th Cir. 2022) (copyright owner may recover actual damages and defendant's profits from infringement); BUC Int'l Corp. v. Int'l Yacht Council Ltd., 489 F.3d 1129, 1138-39 (11th Cir. 2007) (affirming copyright infringement judgment for nearly $1.6 million in actual damages and permanent injunction).

1. Immediately take down your entire website at www.martaguide.com (and anywhere else it is published) and all of the MARTA Guide social media pages (including on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and Pinterest).
2. Immediately stop using the MARTA name, the MARTA Trademarks, and any of MARTA's copyrighted works (this includes the use of "MARTA" in any combination with other words or symbols), and refrain from all such use in the future.
3. Destroy all copies and electronic files of your website and social media pages, and confirm the destruction of these materials in writing.
4. Agree in writing not to use the MARTA name, the MARTA Trademarks, and any of MARTA's copyrighted works in the future, unless you receive the express written permission of MARTA to do so.
5. Confirm in writing you have not registered any other domain names that include the word MARTA or Breeze besides the <martaguide.com> domain (or identify all other such domains you have registered), agree not to renew the domain name(s) and allow them to lapse at the next renewal period, and agree not to register any domains in the future containing MARTA or Breeze.
6. Identify all individuals and companies you worked or collaborated with to create, publish, and/or operate the MARTA Guide website and/or social media pages, and provide all contact information you have for each.

Please confirm to me by March 6, 2023 that you will comply with these requests.

MARTA hopes you will respect its rights and cooperate to give the necessary protection for MARTA's trademarks and copyrights. However, MARTA reserves all rights and remedies it may have in this matter. We look forward to hearing from you or your counsel.

Sincerely,

It would be great if MARTA went all the way to Duluth because Doraville is a little too far for those of us coming from the Upstate of S.C. who would like to take MARTA to the airport. (It would be even nicer to get an affordable, convenient, direct flight from GSP to our final destination, too, but that's another story.) :D

Yeah.. I was going to ride the marta bus from work to the north springs station but I couldn't figure it out. The website wouldn't plan my trip right and the bus arrival list doesn't show every stop. Wound up driving to the train station instead. Wasn't going to miss my flight! If this could be updated / fixed I would totally take the bus more often.

DOWNTOWN

Downtown Atlanta is walkable, bikeable and transit-friendly and the home of Georgia State University. Currently there are limited grocery and shopping options besides several drug stores and the Sweet Auburn Curb Market. Rents tend to be cheaper downtown, but keep in mind that nearby stations do not have parking and many restaurants are closed on the weekends. On the plus side, you can enjoy short walks to concerts at The Tabernacle, festivals in Centennial Olympic Park and to events at the Mercedes-Benz Stadium and State Farm Arena.

HOTELS

Looking for an Atlanta hotel near a MARTA station? See the list of hotels near rail stations below to get started. If you're flying into Atlanta, see tips on riding a train to or from the airport, which is a convenient option if you are staying at one of the below accommodations.

Note that MARTA Guide is reader-supported and we may earn commission if you book a hotel through our website. Thanks for supporting transit!

Hotel Categories:

Airport Hotels | Downtown Atlanta | Midtown | Buckhead | Perimeter | Decatur | Marriott Hotels | Hotels Near Mercedes-Benz Stadium

AIRPORT

Most of the hotels around the Atlanta airport are not accessible by train. Be sure to book a hotel at the Gateway Center for 24-hour SkyTrain access to Hartsfield-Jackson International Airport and the Airport MARTA station. If you get stuck at the airport, one of these hotels is your best option for an overnight stay.

DOWNTOWN

There are several train stations in downtown Atlanta. We recommend a hotel near the Peachtree Center or CNN/GWCC MARTA stations as these are in the nicest areas and have the most attractions in walking distance. A hotel around the Civic Center station is our third recommendation.

FARES

The regular MARTA fare is $2.50 for a one-way trip on trains and buses. You can pay exact cash, but only on buses; otherwise, fare must be added to a reloadable Breeze Card ($2) or a $1 disposable paper ticket. You can purchase the fare card or ticket, along with fare, at all MARTA rail stations or online.

See below for more details on fare options and discounts for children, students, disabled individuals, senior citizens and groups.

FARE TYPES

Regular Fare
$2.50 with four free transfers allowed within a 3-hour period (transfers cannot be used for roundtrips)

If traveling in a group, each person must have their own Breeze Card or ticket. Contact the Media Sales Department at (404) 848-4184 for bulk ticket sales or order online.

Children
Children 46 inches and under can ride MARTA for free. Limit two children per paying adult.

HOW TO RIDE MARTA TRAINS

Marta ROOKIES
"COMMUTING ON THE TRAIN"

Watch on YouTube

MARTA, or the Metropolitan Atlanta Rapid Transit Authority, is one of the easiest rail systems to use (and one of the safest). There are only four rail lines: red and gold (north/south) and blue and green (east/west). Plus, the fare is the same no matter how far you travel. To learn how to ride the trains, view the video above and see the tips below.

1. START AT A TRAIN STATION

First, start your trip at a MARTA rail station. You can walk to a station, drive to one with a daily parking lot and park, get dropped off or take a bus to one (almost all bus routes connect to one or more stations).

If you aren't sure of your nearest station use Google Maps with your start and end address and click on the transit icon to view your bus and rail options. Or view the MARTA station map.

Click for larger map.

2. PURCHASE FARE

You can purchase fare at all MARTA train stations via vending machines or online if you allow

2. PURCHASE FARE

You can purchase fare at all MARTA train stations via vending machines or online if you allow time for shipping. A $1 paper ticket OR a $2 reloadable plastic Breeze Card must be purchased for each person in your group. The next step is to add one-way trips or day passes to each ticket or card. Simply follow the vending machine prompts to make your selection.

Riders should always purchase a roundtrip fare unless only a one-way trip is needed. Children under 46" ride free (limit two children per paying adult). See MARTA Fares for more information.

Once you have a Breeze Card or ticket, tap it on the blue circle to the right of a train station fare gate to enter. It will beep and open. There is one extra wide gate available at every station, which can be used by families with children and commuters with wheelchairs, bikes, strollers or luggage.

3. FOLLOW SIGNS

Signs in all stations provide directions to the train platforms. There are Northbound, Southbound, Eastbound and Westbound platforms based on the direction of train travel. Trains are also marked with the last station they travel to. Look at a MARTA map ahead of time to know your direction of travel, or look for a rail map in the station. Common directions are:

Airport - South
North Springs/Doraville - North
Indian Creek - East
H.E. Holmes, Bankhead - West

Some station signs also indicate which platform to use if you are traveling to Five Points/downtown Atlanta and the airport. When the train arrives, pay attention to the destination marked on the train and announcements made by the train operator to make sure you are traveling in the right direction.

4. TRANSFER IF NEEDED

If you need to transfer to a different line, you can transfer between all rail lines at Five Points or between the red and gold lines at the Lindbergh Center station.

5. TAP TO EXIT

After exiting the train at your destination station, tap your Breeze Card again to open the fare gates. Tapping your card when you exit also puts a free transfer to a bus on your card.

HOW TO RIDE MARTA BUSES

marta ROOKIES
"RIDING THE BUS"

Watch on YouTube

MARTA buses often get a bad rap. But, generally, the buses are not scary. They generally run on time. And they get you to places not convenient to the train. Read on to learn some basic tips to make riding them a little easier.

RIDER ALERT: Starting April 20, 2020, MARTA is temporarily suspending 50 bus routes in order to provide more service on crowded routes in major corridors. View bus routes changes to learn more.

FINDING A BUS ROUTE

To figure out what bus to ride, use the Google Map transit directions or browse/search for destinations on MARTA Guide. Buses operate all over Atlanta and connect to one or more rail stations. If you already use Google Maps regularly, you can zoom in on a location to look for bus icons on streets near you or near where you'd like to go to find route numbers.

BUS FARE

You can use a Breeze Card or pay cash ($2.50) to ride the bus, but drivers cannot make change. Keep in mind that if you pay with cash, you also won't get a free transfer to the train. You can purchase Breeze Cards and fare at any MARTA station or online. Allow 24 hours for fare to load for bus travel.

Note that it is free to ride the bus during the coronavirus pandemic. Board buses in the middle side door and not next to the driver.

Note that it is free to ride the bus during the coronavirus pandemic. Board buses in the middle side door and not next to the driver.

NAVIGATING THE BUS ROUTE

Once on the bus, there are regular bus stop stops and signs along the routes, generally at major intersections. To exit, pull the cord at the sides of the bus to indicate a stop. If you aren't sure of where to get off, tell your driver what street or landmark you're looking for. Most are glad to help.

You can also pick up a printed route map at the Five Points station to have a visual of the routes. These brochures contain both a route map and a schedule or download the MARTA on the Go app to view maps, real-time locations of buses and schedules online.

3 APPS THAT WILL IMPROVE YOUR MARTA COMMUTE

Riding public transit in Atlanta? If you have a smartphone, MARTA trip planning options and real-time train and bus information are just a download away. Here are three helpful apps to have on your smartphone to make your travel easier on MARTA.

MARTA ON THE GO APP

Available on iPhone and Android devices, MARTA On the Go is the official MARTA app. In addition to maps and schedules, you can view the next arriving trains in real time or bus locations on a map. Use the favorite option to save the routes you use most, or press the "nearby" button to see the nearest bus stops and rail stations to your current location.

Don't miss the alerts section as well to get the latest service updates, though you can also check Twitter or sign up for text alerts for information on delays, single tracking and elevator outages. Learn more about MARTA alerts.

SEE AND SAY APP

Say goodbye to nuisance behavior with the See and Say app, which allows riders to report issues to MARTA police anonymously. A discreet camera is built-in for taking pictures, or provide detailed descriptions of the person and situation when submitting reports, including train car number, bus route, location and direction of travel.

Don't be shy! Help make MARTA a pleasant experience. Fare evasion, smoking, playing loud any gateway to violence. Section 404 and any app that makes riders to report issues to MARTA police anonymously. A discreet camera is built-in for taking pictures, or provide detailed descriptions of the person and situation when submitting reports, including train car number, bus route, location and direction of travel.

Don't be shy! Help make MARTA a pleasant experience. Fare evasion, smoking, playing loud music and panhandling are just some of the reasons to reach for the app. You can also text MARTA police at 404-334-5355.

GOOGLE MAPS APP

For the best trip planner on the go, Google Maps is at the top of the list. In the app, search for your end destination then click on the train or person icon to get transit or walking directions. Click on "options" to set your preferred mode of travel: bus only, train only, shortest walk, fewest transfers or best route. Click on the departure time to adjust desired arrival or departure date and time to see the appropriate schedules.

As a bonus, with the GPS enabled, you can also see where you are at on the map as you walk or commute via bus, which is helpful to make sure you're on the right path.
